BOTTOM LINE UP FRONT

A three-day board delegation to Mexico City can proceed with standard precautions. Primary risks are express kidnapping in unregistered taxis and theft in Polanco and Roma. A planned march on day two crosses the route to the client's meeting venue and requires a timing change.

01 Key findings

CRIME — HIGH

Express kidnapping in street taxis

Express kidnappings using unregistered taxis remain common in central districts at night. Victims are driven between ATMs for hours. Travelers should use only vetted drivers arranged through [redacted].

SOURCE · LOCAL REPORTING

EVENT — ELEVATED

March crosses route on day two

A teachers' march is scheduled along Paseo de la Reforma on the morning of day two, between the hotel and the [redacted] venue. Closures typically last four hours. Moving the meeting to 14:00 avoids it.

SOURCE · OFFICIAL NOTICES

VENUE — MODERATE

Hotel and venue meet the standard

The selected hotel in Polanco has controlled entry, on-site security and a secure car drop-off. The meeting venue has one public entrance; a host escort from the lobby is advised for the delegation.

03 Pre-travel recommendations

01 Book all ground transport through vetted drivers and avoid street taxis and ride hails.

02 Move the day two meeting to 14:00 to clear the march on Paseo de la Reforma.

03 Brief travelers to carry one card and limited cash and to leave watches at the hotel.
